You should know

Your total gross annual income is what you earn or reasonably expect to earn. If you're 21 or older and regularly use income from others to pay your bills, you can include that too.

Alimony, child support or separate maintenance income need not be revealed if you do not wish to have it considered as a basis for repaying this obligation. If you include non-taxable income (income that you or your tax advisor has determined isn't subject to income tax), increase that amount by 25%.

Read and accept the following to continue

- I understand that this is not a credit card application and that the process of checking to see if I have an offer will not affect my credit score.
- I authorize Chase to share the information that I provided with a credit reporting agency, and its service providers.
- I also authorize the credit reporting agency to notify Chase, and their service providers that I meet Chase's credit report criteria for an offer.
- Upon responding to an offer, Chase will review my credit report. Receiving an offer does not guarantee I will be approved.

- ☐ I've read and agree to the above. I confirm that all the info I have given you is true.
